The University of Essex Silberrad Scholarship

The University of Essex Silberrad Scholarships provide support for our own graduates to pursue PhD study. The scholarships are funded by a legacy from the Silberrad Estate, which was bequeathed to the University in 2007. Two scholarships will be offered in 2017-18.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

These terms and conditions apply to University of Essex Silberrad Scholarships awarded to students entering our University in October 2017.

Who is eligible?
You can apply for a University of Essex Silberrad Scholarship if you:
- hold a degree from the University of Essex (Undergraduate and/or Masters) or are in the final term of completing a degree at the University of Essex;
- are eligible to pay tuition fees at the rate for Home/EU students;
- are in receipt of an official offer of admission (conditional or unconditional) from the Graduate Admissions Office for full-time PhD study commencing in October 2017;
- receipt of the scholarships is subject to applicants firmly accepting the offer of study, registering as students of the University of Essex for the 2017-18 academic year, and meeting all conditions of our offer;
- no alternative form of the scholarship is available and the award cannot be deferred to a later year from the one for which you are admitted;
- applicants may only receive one award or tuition fee discount administered by the University of Essex. In the event that an applicant is already in receipt of another University award (including the Alumni Loyalty Discount), the larger of the two awards will be kept and the other released;
- where a student applies for and is awarded a scholarship and subsequently obtains full external funding, the University will rescind the scholarship offer;
- students with offers for Professional Doctorates are not eligible to apply.

What is a scholarship worth?
The scholarship is awarded for up to three years of doctoral study. It covers tuition fees (Home/EU) and provides a stipend towards living costs. It is renewable each year subject to satisfactory progress. In 2017-18, the scholarship will be worth £10,086 covering tuition fees and leaving a contribution to living costs. The scholarship will increase annually by 2.5%. The fee element will be deducted automatically and the balance will be paid in three termly instalments.

How do I apply?
All applicants must complete the online application form. No other means of application (such as CV or letter) is acceptable. The University will use two existing references which were supplied to support your course application.

You must complete the online application form. The deadline for applications is 12 February 2017.

How are scholars selected?
University of Essex Silberrad Scholarships support talented postgraduate students who can demonstrate an excellent academic background and the potential for future achievement, as well as financial need. Candidates who satisfy the above criteria, and who have received an offer of admission, will be selected for the award of a scholarship on the following criteria:

- Academic ability: Based on previous academic qualifications (from the University of Essex), normally a first class Bachelor's degree or high 2.1 or equivalent, and/or Master's degree with distinction or merit.
- Research potential: Based on the candidate’s research proposal submitted with their application, their statement on the scholarship application form and two academic references. Departments will take into account the fit of the proposed project with their own research strategy.

When are successful candidates notified?
Successful candidates will normally be notified by the end of April 2017 by our Funding Team. Acceptance of the scholarship constitutes acceptance of these terms and conditions. A scholarship will not commence until the student formally registers on a relevant course at the University of Essex.

How will the money be paid?
Our scholarships are awarded for one year in the first instance during the standard minimum period of enrolment for your degree. The fee element will be deducted automatically, and the stipend and balance (if applicable) will be paid in three annual instalments. Awards are renewed each year, subject to the award holder’s satisfactory progress (as defined by the Code of Practice: Postgraduate Research Degrees), for a second and third year – up to a maximum tenure of nine terms or three years, provided the award holder is still engaged in full-time research (and excepting the circumstances stated in the section on termination, below). Where progress is satisfactory, renewal of the award is automatic. Students applying for a four-year PhD programme will have to meet the final year’s costs themselves.

Intermission
The University expects students to complete their training in a single continuous period, and does not encourage the suspension of awards. Where suspensions are agreed, total periods of suspension must not normally exceed one calendar year during the lifetime of the award. Sympathetic consideration should be given to requests for abeyance due to personal or family reasons. The studentship end dates and expected submission dates should be amended to reflect periods of abeyance.

Illness
Payment of a studentship can continue for absences covered by a medical certificate for up to thirteen weeks within any 12-month period. If the illness lasts, or is expected to last, for more than thirteen weeks, the University should make arrangements to suspend the studentship.

Maternity/adoption leave
Funded students are entitled to up to 26 weeks of maternity or adoption leave on full stipend and a further 26 weeks of unpaid maternity leave. Partners are entitled to up to 10 days paid Ordinary Paternity Leave on full stipend. Partners maybe entitled to up to 50 weeks of Shared Parental Leave; this may include paid and unpaid leave, depending on the individual circumstances, any paid leave should be at full stipend. There is no qualifying period for maternity, paternity adoption or shared parental leave. The University will make every effort to recover the value of maternity, paternity, shared parental or adoption funding from students who decide not to return to study after maternity, paternity, shared parental or adoption leave.

Holidays
Scholarship holders are entitled to a maximum of eight weeks’ holiday (including bank holidays and the University closure at Christmas) per annum and pro-rata. Holidays should be agreed in advance with the supervisor and, in cases where the scholar is engaged in teaching and demonstrating, with the approval of the head of the student’s department, school or centre.

Termination of scholarship
Our University will terminate a scholarship when progress or performance is deemed to be unsatisfactory. The scholarship will be terminated if a student ceases to be registered as a student with the University, or for good cause at the discretion of our Dean of the Graduate School, or his/her nominee for this purpose. If a scholarship is terminated prematurely for any reason, a scholar must repay to the University any monies including maintenance, travel, subsistence, fees overpaid from the date of the termination of the scholarship. If a scholar submits his/her thesis before the end of the scholarship, the scholarship will be terminated on the date of submission. If a scholar takes up full-time employment whilst in receipt of a scholarship, the scholarship will be terminated as of the first day of employment.

Transferability
Change of course within the University of Essex will not affect the continuation of a scholarship, providing that the student continues to be registered on an eligible course within the same department.

Resolution of disputes
In cases not covered by the above terms and conditions, or where a student claims exceptional circumstances, or disputes a decision not to make payments due under a scholarship, they should first put their case in writing to the Funding team who will consider the circumstances and uphold, amend or revoke the original decision. Should a student be unhappy with this decision they should follow the university complaints procedure: http://www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/policies/complaints.aspx

Promotional activities
By accepting the scholarship, recipients are giving the University permission to use their details for promotional purposes and may be asked to provide a case study which may be used in University publications or on the website.

Disclaimer
The information set out above is correct at the date of publication (November 2016). The University of Essex reserves the right to make changes to the above and will notify any such changes to applicants as appropriate.
