1. Introduction

I would like to offer a warm welcome to all new students this autumn and welcome back all who are returning for another year. I hope that you will enjoy your time with the Department of Psychosocial and Psychoanalytic Studies (PPS) and find your studies rewarding and engaging. All the modules and courses we run encourage both learning and personal growth, so you can look forward not only to being intellectually and emotionally stimulated, but also challenged to think about new problems in new ways. As people search for individual meaning and for an understanding of social and political relatedness in a conflicted and uncertain world, our field is relevant as never before.

The Department provides the setting for a very wide range of courses and modules, from foundation degree to doctoral programmes, and across a multitude of subjects including psychoanalysis, analytical psychology, refugee care, counselling and management and organisational dynamics. Our research explores theoretical and clinical knowledge, as well as applying these in many different social and cultural settings. You will be tapping into this breadth of interest and expertise and starting to make your own particular contribution to a vibrant and expanding field.

We know you will be busy with your chosen studies, but we hope you will also make broader use of what the Department and the University have to offer. As well as conferences and workshops, the Department holds Open Seminars monthly in term time – these are free talks with invited speakers on a wide range of topics and full details can be found on the Department's web page. We also encourage you to follow your interests and take full advantage of the rich offerings in other departments, and make full use of the University environment and facilities.

All of us at PPS want to help make your time here successful and enjoyable. There are many sources of advice and support available to you, should you require it. Besides the teaching staff on individual modules and your personal tutor, the members of the Professional Services Team are knowledgeable and helpful about all aspects of Department and University life.

You will also have many opportunities to let us know how you are experiencing your time here: individually, in tutorials; through end-of-module evaluation questionnaires; through the Student Staff Liaison Committee; and through student satisfaction surveys. It is important for us to have feedback and we take your input seriously and use it to improve our programmes. As Head of Department and Senior Tutor I will also be available by appointment if you have a specific concern. You can arrange this through Mrs Debbie Stewart in room 4SB.6.2, or by phone (873640) or email ppsdm@essex.ac.uk. Please also feel free to e-mail me direct at mffytche@essex.ac.uk. I am always happy to meet with you.
This handbook should be your first resource whenever you have a question. It contains important information that the University and Departmental staff will assume you know, including essay submission procedures, deadlines and rules of assessment.

Whatever you are studying at the moment, also bear in mind the opportunities for further study. The handbook contains information on all the Department’s activities, and what you cannot find in it, you can follow up on our web pages, at: http://www.essex.ac.uk/cps.

I look forward to seeing you around the Department. Best wishes for your time with us.

Matt ffytche

Head of Department

2.5 Personal tutor information

All undergraduate students are allocated a Personal Tutor. Personal Tutors provide general and academic support to a small group of students, offering opportunities to discuss their academic progress, their transition between years and their progression into the world beyond the University. Your Personal Tutor is someone you can talk to if you have any questions about your course or encounter any difficulties which affect your studies.

You can see the name of your Personal Tutor by logging in to myEssex.

2.6 Details of additional departmental support

Our friendly professional services team are able to provide support and guidance around administrative questions and queries. This may concern locating a University resource, a query about some aspect of your course or extra-curricular events occurring within the Department. They are also able to signpost you to other University services.

2.7 Department policy on the use of smart phones, laptops, tablets, dictionaries

A student may not make a personal recording of a teaching event, supervisory meeting, oral examination or other formal meeting or committee which considers the student’s academic progress or performance without the permission of all other individuals present. If this permission is granted, the recording may be made for the personal use of the student only, in support of their studies and learning. The recording must not be made publicly available or shared for other purposes without the consent of those present. Disabled students who have difficulty with note-taking are encouraged to contact Student Support for further information on when recording is permissible and other access strategies.

2.8 How the Department will communicate with students

You are entitled to free e-mail supplied by the University. Please ensure that you know how to access this. The IT Helpdesk can assist you. You can visit in person at the ground floor of the Silberrad Student Centre, or telephone on extension 2345 (internal) or 01206 872345 from outside the University.

The teaching and office staff will use this method of communication regularly, especially to tell you about last-minute changes in teaching arrangements or to send you other important messages. You should check your University e-mail regularly for important information. It is recommended your check it no less than twice a week, but more frequently is better.

You can arrange for your University emails to be forwarded to your private e-mail address if you prefer.

Further information on your University IT account can be found in section 7.3 of this handbook.
2.9 Departmental prizes

The Department currently awards the following undergraduate prizes:

The Ba Psychoanalytic Studies/BA Therapeutic Care First Year Student Prize is awarded for the student who receives the highest overall essay marks in the first year of their degree, and also meets the following conditions: one piece of work must be at 1st Class level and the year grade overall must be at least at 2.1 level.

The Hannah Curtis Prize is awarded for the best BA Therapeutic Communication and Therapeutic Organisations long essay mark. (PA213, long essay mark, not overall module mark).

The Kegerreis Prize is awarded to the student with the best overall mark on BA (Hons) Therapeutic Communications and Therapeutic Organisations.
3. Learning and Teaching

3.1 Brief statement about learning, teaching and independent study

Success on an undergraduate degree programme requires sustained effort on your part throughout the course. It is necessary for you to find and maintain an efficient way of working that suits your abilities and needs. Finding a manageable routine is the key!

You will be provided with tutorials and a variety of learning resources which may include lectures, seminars, groups, workshops and on-line activities as a foundation for your study, and from which you can develop your own unique relationship to the subject.

It cannot be emphasised too strongly that the contact hours with the teaching staff, though crucial to your learning, is only a guide. It is essential that you spend time on your own in order to work through and understand the material you are reading. You must read round the subject in the recommended books and papers and other books you find in the Library. The more you engage with the readings in and out of seminars the better your assignments will be.

3.2 What the Department expects from its students and what students can expect from the Department

Staff can reasonably expect that students will:

1. attend all lectures and classes. Absence should be reported by completing the notified absence on myEssex (see section 3.14 ‘Attendance monitoring (Count-me-in) and absence from sessions’);
2. complete all essential or required reading prior to the relevant lecture or class;
3. spend at least 10 hours per week reading and preparing for the module, including class-lecture contact time;
4. participate actively in classes and seminars and honour any commitment to produce work for a class;
5. familiarise themselves with the rules of assessment and the Department's procedures for submitting coursework;
6. complete required coursework on time;
7. ensure that required coursework is clearly expressed, legibly written (ideally, that it is typed or wordprocessed); and properly documented (with adequate citations and bibliography).

You can expect clear guidelines on your coursework, well organised teaching and a serious response to your needs of, and complaints about, your modules. You can also expect to be able to contact staff and arrange meetings within a reasonable period of time. Marked work will be returned to students within four weeks of the submission deadline and feedback should give you a clear idea of strengths and weaknesses. In general, whatever procedures are relevant to any specific situation should be made clear to you on request (progress, appeals, course requirements).
3.3 Information about Moodle and FASER

We use Moodle as our online learning environment, to enhance face-to-face teaching. It lets you get to course materials, and has built-in features to enhance learning such as discussion forums, chat facilities, quizzes, surveys, glossaries and wikis.

FASER is our online coursework submission and feedback system. Use it to check coursework deadlines, upload coursework and receive electronic feedback all in one place.

Programme specifications

Programme Specifications provide key information, such as the structure and aims of your course, as well as the knowledge and skills you will develop. The relevant Programme Specification for your course and stage of study will be available to you when you log onto either myEssex or eNROL.

Learning outcomes

Your course’s learning outcomes are set out in Programme Specifications. They are categorised into knowledge, intellectual, practical and key skills, and are linked to the aims, learning outcomes and assessment on the modules you take. You can measure your progress against the outcomes, for example when reviewing coursework feedback, and they can be used to guide you when undertaking independent study.

You can find a copy of the module map showing how your course learning outcomes are connected to the modules with the programme specification on myEssex. Full module outlines including the learning outcomes specific to that module are available on the relevant Moodle module.

3.5 Changing your degree and maximum period of study

Changing your course
If you want to change your course, you should talk to someone in your department first. Check the deadlines for course changes with the Student Services Hub.
www.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/changing-course.aspx

You should discuss your thoughts about changing course with someone in your school/department/centre. If your new course is in a different department, you should also speak to someone in that department.

Investigate your potential new course by looking at course information on the department’s web pages, talking to students on the course and speaking to tutors. You should also look at our Rules of Assessment for the new course to check whether there are any course-specific requirements.

If you are considering changing course due to academic worries with your current course you might find it useful to seek academic support before changing course by contacting the Talent Development Centre.

www.essex.ac.uk/students/study-resources/tdc

If you want to make a formal request for a course change, you should do so via the online Course Change form available here: www.essex.ac.uk/esf/
Maximum period of study
Undergraduate students have a maximum period in which to complete their studies. This is set at the point at which you register, and is normally the length of your programme plus two additional years. This is to allow some flexibility in cases where you find you must intermit, or you fail a stage of study and must repeat it, or you want to transfer to a new course and must retake a stage of study.

3.6 Information about modules including: choices, core, optional, enrolling for modules, the location of the directory, reading lists, changing modules, changing your class.

Students must attempt 120 credits for each year of study. Students must pass all core modules and at least 90 credits at level 5 (for a Foundation degree) or level 6 (for a BA) in order to be eligible to graduate. Students cannot graduate with more than 30 failed credits in non-core modules during the course of their degree.

Modules are normally categorised as follows:
- Core – must be taken and must be passed;
- Compulsory – must be taken, but some condonement of fails may be possible;
- Optional – you have a choice of which module to take from a designated list.

Students on the FdA and BA top up for Therapeutic Communication and Therapeutic Organisations must make module choices via Enrol in order to determine the pathway of their degree (Child and Adolescent or Adult). For a full list of modules please consult the Module Directory: www.essex.ac.uk/modules/

3.7 Listen Again

Did you miss something? Our Listen Again digital recording service lets you listen again to lectures so you grasp every detail. It’s available in teaching rooms or lecture theatres where you see the sign. listenagain.essex.ac.uk

3.8 Supervision of UG student research and final year capstone projects

Students will be allocated a long essay or dissertation supervisor. There will be some effort to match your topic with an area of interest or expertise in the supervisor, although this will not always be possible and is not in any case essential: what matters most is that you establish and commit to a productive working relationship with your supervisor.

3.9 Essex Abroad, terms abroad and opportunities

The majority of Essex courses give you the chance to spend a term or year studying abroad. Study abroad is a fantastic opportunity which offers you:

- the ability to present future employers with evidence of your capacity for inter-cultural understanding, self-reliance and independence
- the chance to become immersed in another culture over a sustained period, getting to know a country and its people in a way that you can't as a tourist
- a fresh perspective on the world and your academic discipline
- a chance to experience a different educational system which develops different skills to those focused on in the UK

For further information please visit https://www1.essex.ac.uk/essexabroad/study/default.aspx
3.10 Placement information

If relevant to your course, placement information will be published in your course handbook.

3.11 Summary of how the department offers an inclusive learning experience, ensures the quality of opportunities and responds to the diverse needs of students

The University is committed to providing equal opportunities for all students regardless of your background, the level and kinds of need you bring, your strengths and weaknesses and where or how you study. Our diverse student population is taken into account when developing the resources, services and facilities on and off campus, when we create our courses, write publications and course materials, and set our policies and regulations. Where appropriate, reasonable adjustments will be made for individual students to support them through their studies. All of this information is provided at greater length within other sections of this handbook.

3.11.1 Disability and emotional wellbeing

We would encourage all new students with a disability, long term medical condition, specific learning difficulty or mental health difficulty to disclose and register with the Student Services Hub so that we can plan how best to support you in your studies.

You can find out about the support we offer here: www.essex.ac.uk/students/contact/help.aspx

UK students may be eligible for a Disabled Students’ Allowance grant. See our webpages for more information, including application forms and key changes: www.essex.ac.uk/students/disability/funding.aspx

3.11.2 International students

We are proud to be a global community and we recognise that living and studying in the UK may be very different from your own country.

Essex has a wide range of support covering academic and health and wellbeing issues. Our friendly and professional staff will be able to guide, give advice and assist you during your time at Essex.

You can find helpful information here - www.essex.ac.uk/students/new/international/default.aspx

If you are studying on a Tier 4 visa, don’t forget to read section 8.4 Tier 4 Information of this handbook which has further information and links.

3.11.3 Mature and part-time students

As a mature student you’ll be in very good company – around 37% of our students are mature students.

We appreciate that studying as a mature student can present challenges. This is particularly true if this is your first experience of higher education and you have other commitments and responsibilities to meet such as work and family. We want you to be aware of the support available so that you can make the most of your time at Essex.

You can find more information here: www.essex.ac.uk/students/groups/mature-students.aspx
3.12 Student representation, Student Staff Liaison Committee, Student Assessment of Modules and Teaching and Student Surveys

Student feedback is a vital part of the University's approach to quality assurance and enhancement. It is therefore important that you are given the opportunity to feedback and that you take time to feedback to the University. You can do this in a number of ways:

You can contact (or volunteer to be) a student representative who represent the voice of fellow students in departmental Student Staff Liaison Committees (SSLCs) and other University level committees.
http://www.essexstudent.com/representation/coursereps/http://www.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/student_rep.asp http://www.essex.ac.uk/quality/student_representation/sslc.asp.

Every year, we will ask you to complete the Student Assessment of Module and Teaching (SAMT). This survey will be summarised and discussed by SSLCs and will inform reports written by us for central University committees as part of our quality assurance processes.

Student satisfaction surveys enable the University to gauge overall satisfaction amongst students. When the results have been reviewed and analysed, the University can then enhance your experience of learning at Essex. The National Student Survey (NSS) for final year students feeds into university league tables. NSS also lets us know how we’re doing and where we can make improvements. The survey is run online and you will receive a link to the survey via email. Students not eligible for NSS will be invited to complete the UK Engagement Survey (UKES) which asks about how you spend your time on your course, what kind of learning you’ve taken part in and your views on your teaching and learning experience.

3.13 Library services

At our Colchester Campus, the Albert Sloman Library on Square 5 has a variety of study spaces over six floors, including 24/7 facilities and group work areas. The Library offers a wide range of learning resources, online and in print, with a dedicated Helpdesk, overnight chat service and the opportunity to book appointments with your Subject Librarian to help you through your studies and beyond.
libwww.essex.ac.uk

The library has a team of Subject Librarians who can help you to find appropriate resources for your assignments and show you how to search effectively. They can also provide advice on referencing and how to avoid plagiarism, using reference management software, and evaluating sources. Your Subject Librarian is Nigel Cochrane – contact him at nigelc@essex.ac.uk, or use the Book a librarian form on the Library website to get in touch.

For guidance in relation to third-party proofreading of student work:
www.essex.ac.uk/proofreading
3.14 Attendance monitoring (Count-me-in) and absence from sessions

Your attendance at lectures and classes has a significant impact on how successful you are in your studies. At Essex, we monitor attendance so we can identify students who may need guidance and support.

You'll need to record your attendance at teaching events using the electronic reader in the teaching room. Just ‘tap in’ for every timetabled teaching event you attend.

You should not tap in for someone who is not attending the class; and also you should not tap in if you then immediately leave the teaching event. This may result in disciplinary action being taken against you.

If you lose your card or it is faulty, go to the Student Services Hub to get a new card (a fee may be applicable). If you attend a teaching event but are unable to record your attendance as you don’t have your registration card, you should speak to a member of administrative staff in your department. In the case of a lost card, your department will normally record you as present for up to seven days.

For more information on attendance, and for links to forms and guidelines visit: www.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/attendance.aspx

If you need to report an absence from a teaching event, test or exam due to medical or other circumstances you should do so by completing the relevant form in myEssex for a notified absence. We will consider the reasons and may record it as an authorised absence. Be aware that you may need to provide evidence, including medical evidence if relevant.

Please contact your Personal Tutor, department staff or the Student Services Hub for advice and support, particularly if you are going to be absent for several weeks.
4. Assessment

4.1 Rules of Assessment

The Rules of Assessment are used to calculate your results. www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/general/assess-rules.aspx

The following is only a summary of the key points. You should read the rules and make sure you understand them. If you need advice, ask your personal tutor, departmental administrator, or SU Advice.

Decisions about your results are made at the meeting of the Board of Examiners at the end of the Summer Term.

The rules cover:

- whether you have passed the modules you have studied and can be awarded credit
- whether you have met the requirements to move on to the next stage of your course
- whether you have met the requirements to pass your course, and what classification you will receive
- if you have not passed, what reassessment you could be offered
- if you have not passed, whether you must withdraw from your course, with or without an exit award

</tr>
</tbody>

Your final degree classification is based upon your marks in stage 2 and stage 3 (for a three year course). You must meet the requirements for stage 1 (first year) to continue on the course.

Core, compulsory and optional modules

To understand the requirements to pass your course, you need to know the status of the modules that you are taking. You can find details of the status of your modules in Section C of your programme specification via My Essex.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Optional</td>

<td>There might be limited opportunities to continue on the course/be eligible for the degree if you fail it.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Most modules in each year must be passed, with only a small number of credits, if any, being allowed to be failed in the degree.
What do I need to do to pass my course?
To understand what you need to do to pass your course you should read the Rules of Assessment webpages; look up the status of the modules you are taking; and see whether there are any additional course requirements by checking any variations for your department (Appendix A under the rules of assessment).

If you are thinking of undertaking a work placement or year abroad, you should check the requirements for these programmes.

Exit Awards
If you decide to withdraw from your course before you finish, or you fail too many credits to be awarded a Bachelor’s degree, you may be awarded a qualification at a lower level, if appropriate.

4.2 Extenuating Circumstances, withdrawing and intermitting

www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ext-circ.aspx

Extenuating circumstances are circumstances beyond your control which cause you to perform less well in your coursework or examinations than you might have expected. In general, extenuating circumstances will be of a medical or personal nature that affect you for any significant period of time and/or during the examination period.
You need to submit your form by the deadline given here – www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg/general/assess-rules.aspx

You will not get extra marks if you hand in an extenuating circumstances form. Boards of Examiners use other methods to take into account extenuating circumstances, such as permitting further reassessment opportunities for uncapped marks.

You should read the guidance on extenuating circumstances very carefully before submitting your form and evidence. Seek advice from the Students’ Union Advice Centre (www.essexstudent.com/services/advice_centre/) or the Student Services Hub (www.essex.ac.uk/students/contact/default.aspx).

Thinking of leaving or taking a break from your studies?
You may experience doubts at some point during your studies, if you’re thinking about leaving Essex, we’re here to support you and give you the advice you need to help you make an informed choice.

Intermission is a temporary withdrawal or leave of absence from the University and provides you with the opportunity to take a break from your studies. Normally, this is for reasons beyond your control (e.g. health or personal problems) although other reasons are permitted. Intermission must be approved by the University first, so if you are thinking about intermitting, we strongly advise you to contact your department and your Student Services Hub to talk to one of our advisers.

You should also read our guidance on intermitting very carefully at www.essex.ac.uk/see/intermit. If your intermission is agreed to, we will also give you the advice and support you need to help you carry on with your studies.

Withdrawing is the formal process for permanently leaving your programme of study and the University. If you are thinking of withdrawing, you should seek advice from your Department or the Student Services Hub at the earliest opportunity. It is very important that you discuss your circumstances with the University and follow the formal procedure for withdrawing. If the university is not formally notified, then you may risk continuing to incur further tuition or accommodation fees. More advice and information is available at www.essex.ac.uk/see/withdraw.

4.3 Re-marking of coursework

You have the right to request a re-mark of your coursework under certain circumstances which your department will advise you on. The University Marking Policy can be found here: www.essex.ac.uk/quality/university_policies/examination_and_assessment/marking_policy. You will need to complete a form and be aware that marks can go down as well as up.

4.4 Moderation, second marking policies and external examiners

The University policy on moderation is part of the Marking Policy. When work is moderated, it means that a second member of academic staff takes a random sample of the work for a particular assessment and reviews the marks given. A moderator would not change individual marks for the work, but would liaise with the first marker to agree whether marks should be reviewed across the particular piece of assessment or module, which may lead to marks being adjusted.

Second marking is where a second marker marks the work but has access to the first marker’s marks and/or comments.

External Examiners are usually academics from other universities but may be from industry, business or the profession depending on the requirements of the course. They give an impartial view of the course and independent advice to ensure that courses at the University meet the academic standards expected across UK higher education. External Examiners write reports on the courses and modules they are responsible for which are made available to you via your department. You can find the name and institution of the External Examiner for your course and modules by looking on the Programme Specifications Catalogue and the Module Directory.

You can find out more about how the University uses External Examiners here: www.essex.ac.uk/quality/external_examiners/default.asp

Please note: you may not contact External Examiners directly under any circumstances. If you have any concerns about the quality and standards of your course, please contact your student rep, your Head of Department or the Students’ Union.

4.5 Appeals, complaints, and fitness to practise

Academic Appeals Procedure

Appeals on academic grounds can be made following the meeting of the Board of Examiners and the publication of your results. Be aware that there are strict deadlines for the submission of the appeal form and your evidence.

We strongly advise all students thinking about making an appeal to contact the Students’ Union Advice Centre.

You may not appeal against academic judgement. This means that you can’t appeal against the marks you have been given by a Board of Examiners without evidence of extenuating circumstances or procedural irregularity.

More information about appeals, including the deadlines and forms to complete, can be found online at: www.essex.ac.uk/see/appeals
Making a Complaint: The University is a large community engaged in many activities of both an academic and non-academic nature. From time to time, you may feel dissatisfied with some aspect of your dealings with the University and, when that happens, it is important that the issue is dealt with constructively and as quickly as possible without risk of disadvantage or recrimination.

A complaint is defined as the expression of a specific concern about matters that affect the quality of a student's learning opportunities (this is in line with the QAA Quality Code for Higher Education, Chapter B9: Academic Appeals and Student Complaints). The University aims to resolve complaints quickly and informally.

You can find the complaints procedure and the forms here: www.essex.ac.uk/see/complaints

Fitness to practise is only applicable to students on certain professional courses (such as nursing or social work). If this applies to you, you will have been told by your department. You can find the full Fitness to Practise procedure online at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/ppg

4.6 Academic Offences Policy

The University expects students to act with honesty and integrity in relation to coursework, examinations and other assessed work, and to follow our conventions for academic writing (including appropriate referencing of sources) and ethical considerations. If you don’t meet these expectations, then you may be charged with having committed an academic offence, a matter the University takes very seriously.

It is your responsibility to make yourself aware of the regulations governing examinations and how to correctly prepare your coursework. An academic offence can take place even if you didn’t mean to commit one, and examples include plagiarism, falsifying data or evidence, and communicating with another candidate in an examination.

If you aren’t sure what the conventions are, particularly in relation to referencing, you should ask your department, contact the Talent Development Centre, and also refer to 7: Referencing and good academic practice in this handbook.

More information about academic offences and getting support can be found at: www.essex.ac.uk/see/academic-offence

4.7 Ethics

All research involving human participants, whether undertaken by the University's staff or students, must undergo an ethics review by an appropriate body and ethical approval must be obtained before it commences. You can find our Guidelines for Ethical Approval of Research Involving Human Participants here - www.essex.ac.uk/reo/governance/human.aspx - along with the Ethical Approval application form.

‘Human participants’ are defined as including living human beings, human beings who have recently died (cadavers, human remains and body parts), embryos and foetuses, human tissue and bodily fluids, and personal data and records (such as, but not restricted to medical, genetic, financial, personnel, criminal or administrative records and test results including scholastic achievements). Research involving the NHS may require and research involving human tissue or adults lacking capacity to consent will require Health Research Authority approval.'

4.8 Department of Psychosocial and Psychoanalytic Studies Confidentiality Policy

The Confidentiality Policy can be found on the Department's website at the following URL: http://www.essex.ac.uk/cps/current-students/default.aspx

Submissions of coursework that breach the policy, explicitly or implicitly, in the view of the internal assessor/moderator or External Examiner will be penalised. A breach of confidentiality is an offence that will be referred to the Director of Education for investigation and may lead to a fail.
5. Coursework

5.1 Assignment and essay length and department word count policy

All submitted coursework needs to be within 10% either side of the stated word count. This total does not include the title and the reference list. You will lose marks if your work is over the upper boundary, details below:

- Between 10-20% over - 3 marks deducted
- Between 21-30% over - 8 marks deducted
- Over 30% over- 15 marks deducted

You must supply a computer-generated word count.

5.2 Coursework submission details (including FASER) and deadlines

Coursework must be submitted electronically via the FASER facility. This is available via your myEssex portal and via the University home page. Please note:

- You must use the cover sheet supplied on the relevant Moodle course.
- Do not put your name on your work. Your work is identified by your registration number which is captured electronically. Your work is marked by staff who will not know your registration number, so will not know if any piece of work belongs to a specific student. If you do not trust electronic capture of your work, you are welcome to put your registration number on your essay. Essays are identified by the Student Administrator after marking.
- Essays must be 1.5 line spaced and the font at least 12pt type size.
- You must supply a computer generated word count on your essays. Do not include essay title or reference lists in this count.
- You must only submit Word (.doc or .docx) or Rich Text format (.rtf) files. Do not submit Microsoft Works (.wps), Open Office (.odt) files or pdfs. If you create a document with Works or Open Office you must convert (file, followed by save as) the file to Rich Text format (.rtf) before submitting to the system.
- All work related to one assignment must be submitted in one file.
- When you log on to FASER you should see a list of all your modules. If a particular module is not listed, please contact the Student Administrator.
- For each of the modules listed, you will be able to store your work-in-progress while you are preparing your assignments. There is provision to indicate that submitted work is a draft version. FASER can act as a backup to your own files and prevents work being lost if your computer crashes. You can add or delete files as often as you wish.
- Read the online instructions very carefully. If you experience any problems, please contact your Student Administrator.
- You DO NOT have to watermark your essay.
- You will automatically receive an email receipt to your University of Essex email address once your work has been successfully submitted. If you do not receive a receipt immediately this may mean you have not submitted correctly. Please try again ensuring that you have submitted to the correct assignment code. Don’t submit to the test page by mistake!
Deadlines

Log onto FASER to see a list of your modules and the coursework deadlines. Deadlines will also be published on the relevant module outline.

5.3 Return of coursework policy

Feedback will be available on FASER within four weeks of your submission deadline. Should you require more detailed feedback on your coursework please contact your Student Administrator who will send the essay back to the marker requesting more detailed feedback.

5.4 Late coursework policy

We have a single policy at the University of Essex for the late submission of coursework in Undergraduate courses: All coursework submitted after the deadline will receive a mark of zero. No extensions will be granted. A student submitting coursework late will have the University's and department’s arrangements for late submission drawn to their attention. The policy states that the mark of zero shall stand unless you submit satisfactory evidence of extenuating circumstances that indicate that you were unable to submit the work by the deadline. More information about extenuating circumstances relating to late submission of coursework is available at:
http://www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/late-submission.aspx

5.5 Essay writing support

First year students on FdA Therapeutic Communication and Therapeutic Organisations and on BA Psychoanalytic Studies will be offered a series of five essay writing workshops in the autumn term.

First year students on BA Therapeutic Care take an essay writing module in their first term; PA130-4-AU, Assignment and Research Writing for Psychoanalytic Studies.

For support on academic literacy including one-to-one sessions with Academic Advisers visit the Talent Development Centre http://www.essex.ac.uk/students/study-resources/tdc/default.aspx

5.6 Anonymous marking policy

All coursework which contributes to your final module mark should be marked anonymously where it is practical to do so, where this is not possible, departments will inform you in advance of the assessment task.
www.essex.ac.uk/quality/university_policies/default.asp

Effective feedback helps students to understand the mark given for a particular piece of work, and helps students to reflect on their own learning and to achieve better marks in future pieces of work. A variety of methods of providing feedback are used across the University, and departments chose the most appropriate for their courses and modules. The University does not have an institution-wide approach to anonymous marking in coursework. Departments decide whether to use anonymous marking in coursework or not.

This department operates a system of anonymous marking in coursework. The Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education defines anonymous marking as the ‘marking of students’ submitted work without their identity being revealed to the person carrying out the marking at the time the work is marked, so that the assessment is unbiased. Anonymity helps to ensure that conscious or unconscious prejudice does not affect marks, and that each piece of work is judged on its merits and not in relation to the marker’s other impressions of a student. Anonymity should not prevent you discussing your work with academic staff, although systems for permitting this may vary depending on factors such as the nature of the exercise.

Please see section 5.2 on coursework submission for details of how to submit your coursework.

If you take optional modules outside your home department, you should make sure you are aware of the policy on whether coursework is marked anonymously or not, and how to submit coursework.

5.7 Reassessment in coursework

If the Board of Examiners has required you to complete essays or assignments over the vacation, the Registry will send you a letter by email with further information. Please check your Essex email account regularly once your results have been published. Your Department will send you details of the assignments which you are required to undertake.

5.8 Referencing in coursework

Drawing on the wide range of reading you do around your subject area, and demonstrating how you have used this to develop your knowledge and form your own views, is a key aspect of your coursework. It’s essential that you reference your source materials so it is clear where the information has come from, and to avoid any misunderstanding over whether you are presenting ideas as your own.

Please see section 7 of this handbook for information on referencing and where to seek advice.
6. Exams

6.1 Examination regulations

The General Regulations which govern examinations can be found via the website here: www.essex.ac.uk/governance/regulations

Attendance at examinations is compulsory. For exams that are more than an hour long, you will not be allowed to enter the examination room if you arrive later than 55 minutes after the start of the exam. If your exam is only an hour long, you will only be admitted up to ten minutes after the start of the exam.

6.2 Access to exam scripts

If you want to see your exam script, you should normally make the request within four weeks after the exam to the department which is responsible for that module. The department should either: let you see the script in the presence of one of the staff responsible for teaching the module or give you a copy or summary of the examiners’ comments on your performance.

6.3 Calculators

If you are allowed to use a calculator in your examinations, the only models you are permitted to use are the Casio FX-83GT PLUS or the Casio FX-85GT PLUS.

The only exception is for certain Finance exams that require a financial calculator, in which case you may use the Hewlett Packard 12c (all variants) or the Texas Instruments BAII Plus (including the BAII Plus Professional).

A limited number of Casio calculators will be available to borrow on the day of your exam from the Exams Office on a first-come, first-served basis, on production of your registration card. Please note financial calculators will not be available.

6.4 General information about summer exams and exam results

You can find your personalised exam timetable online at: www.essex.ac.uk/examtimes/

You must bring your registration card and exam entry form with you to the exam. You will not be allowed entry without them. Remember to check your exam entry form carefully and contact the Examinations Office if there are any errors.

You can download a guide to examinations at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/default.aspx and watch a short video at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/default.aspx

You will receive an email to your Essex email account as soon as your results are published. You can find the publication schedule at: www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/schedule.aspx
6.5 Anonymous marking policy in examinations

All formal examinations at the University of Essex are marked anonymously.

Your Exam Entry form also has your candidate number in large print in the centre of the page. This is the number you should write on your examination scripts.

6.6 Reassessment in examinations

You can find information relating to resitting exams at www.essex.ac.uk/students/exams-and-coursework/resits.aspx.

Remember that reassessment in examinations (and coursework) carries a fee.

6.7 Referencing in examinations

Please refer to section 7 Referencing and good academic practice.

6.8 Department policy on the use of dictionaries in exams

Dictionaries may only be used where the rubric of the examination paper permits that a dictionary of a specified type may be used by all students taking the exam. These are normally English language dictionaries with the title in English. Dictionaries of psychoanalysis or other subject dictionaries are not permitted in the examination unless specified on the rubric.

Electronic dictionaries are not permitted in the examinations and if you take one to the examination you will be reported on suspicion of committing an Academic Offence.
7. Referencing and good academic practice

7.1 Why good academic practice is part of scholarship and why it is important at Essex

Respecting authorship through good academic practice is one of the key values of higher education in the UK.

The University takes academic offences very seriously. You should read the sections of this handbook which refer to referencing, coursework and examinations very carefully.

Referencing is a key academic/scientific skill. It is how you will acknowledge all sources used within a piece of work. You must reference all works used directly (quotes) and indirectly (paraphrasing and summarising).

Referencing allows you to give credit to authors'/researchers' concepts and ideas/ideas and results, demonstrate your breadth of reading and knowledge on a subject, direct readers to your sources, and avoid plagiarism.

You should always use the best available sources of evidence, such as peer reviewed journals and recognised books.

To find out about your departmental referencing style and for help with referencing, visit the library website: http://libwww.essex.ac.uk/referencing.htm

You should read the sections of this handbook which refer to referencing, coursework and examinations very carefully. Failure to understand the academic conventions may result in you being found to have committed an academic offence (see section 4.6 Academic Offences Procedure).

7.2 Where to seek guidance on referencing, including links to the relevant referencing scheme and details of support sessions

The Talent Development Centre provides online courses and guides to help you fully understand what is required from you. You can find out about the full range of workshops and resources that are available to you by visiting www.essex.ac.uk/see/tdc. You can also complete the online Academic Integrity course at moodle.essex.ac.uk/course.

Remember, if you have any questions about referencing you can ask our academic staff, or staff in the Talent Development Centre.

7.3 The University’s policy on plagiarism and academic offences

Please see section 4.6 and remember that the Academic Offences Policy applies to all students www.essex.ac.uk/about/governance/policies/academic-offences.aspx.
8. Practicalities: getting started and IT matters

8.1 Registration, enrolling and transcripts

All new and returning students are required to register at the start of each academic year. The process for new students includes activating an IT account, completing Pre-Arrival Online, and attending the University’s main registration event in the Sports Hall.

New students: www.essex.ac.uk/students/new/registration.aspx

Returning students are required to complete Online Registration. In addition to this, returning students who hold Tier 4 visas are required to complete a document check in person at the University’s main registration event in the Sports Hall.

Returning students: www.essex.ac.uk/students/course-admin/registration.aspx

8.1.2 Module enrolment

Students registered on programmes of study leading to a degree may have options to select as part of their course structure. The eNROL system is an online tool to review and select available modules specific to a particular course and year of study. All new and returning students should use the online system prior to the start of each academic year. Returning students will access the system from the April preceding the next academic year. New students will access the system from the end of August. Departments will approve student selections within a few weeks of eNROL use and timetables will take module enrolment into account when planning for the next academic year. Early module enrolment will ensure students know which modules to attend and where the lectures and classes are held.

8.1.3 Award documents

As your studies draw to a close, and once your exam board has met, it takes up to five working days for your results to be confirmed. You will be sent an email to inform you when the results are live on a password protected web page. Graduating students will receive a degree certificate and graduating undergraduate students also be able to access their electronic HEAR which gives details of all marks obtained during their studies.

www.essex.ac.uk/students/graduation/award-documents/default.aspx

8.2 Find Your Way and room numbering system

Find Your Way is our interactive campus map app. Download it to help you find any location on campus and get directions quickly and easily. There’s also a handy web version - http://findyourway.essex.ac.uk/

If you’re looking for a specific room, follow these rules.

If the room number has three parts and the first is alphabetical eg TC.1.20 then the room is in one of the outer buildings. The format is building,floor,room. The first part indicates the building - "TC" is the Teaching Centre and "LH" is the Ivor Crewe Lecture Hall. The second part tells you the floor and the third the room number. For example, LH.1.12 is Ivor Crewe Lecture Hall, floor 1, room 12.
If the number has three parts and the first contains numbers and letters eg 5N.7.16, then the room is in square 4 or 5. The format is entrance.floor.room. The first part tells you the square and corner (eg 4S is the south corner of square 4), which matches the labels on the entrances (eg door 4NW is next to The Store). The second part is the floor and the third part the room. For example, 5NW.6.12 is in the north-west (NW) corner of Square 5 (entrance “5NW”), floor 6, room 12.

If the number has two elements and the second element has three digits eg 4.722, the room is in the Maths/Social Studies/Rab Butler/Square 1 building area. The first number shows the floor and the last three digits show the room number.

Also… if the last three digits are 700-799 the room is off Square 1, and if the last three digits are 500-599 the room is in the Square 2 area (Computer Science). For example, 5.512 is room 512, floor 5.

8.3 IT support, wifi, email account, free MS office, computer labs, m:drive

Visit our website to set up your IT account and password, register an external email address and passphrase and request a reminder for a forgotten passphrase: www.essex.ac.uk/it/getaccount.

You must change your password within four weeks of your account being created, and then once every four months after that. The easiest way to change your password is online at: www.essex.ac.uk/password.

Once you’re set up, you can access email, log on to lab computers, connect to eduroam wi-fi and much more.

As part of your Office 365 email account you get 1TB cloud storage space for all your documents with OneDrive. OneDrive lets you create, edit, and share documents online. You also get at least 300 MB of local storage, known as your M: drive. You can access this by going to ‘My Documents’ on any lab computer.

Visit the IT Services website for helpful information, including how-to guides, answers to frequently asked questions, and links to video screencasts. www.essex.ac.uk/it

If you can’t find what you’re looking for, or if you need to talk to someone, then you can get help from the IT Helpdesk in the Silberrad Student Centre. Open Monday to Thursday 8.30am to 6.00pm, and Friday 8.30am to 5.45pm.

Information on computers and software is available here: www.essex.ac.uk/it/services/computers-and-software/default.aspx?tab=3
